Purpose

Open access enables UNSW to share our capability in research and education effectively and equitably with global partners and stakeholders. By facilitating timely exposure, sharing, comparison, and critique of research, open access supports the generation of new knowledge applied to solve complex problems, deliver social benefits, and drive economic prosperity, locally, nationally, and globally. It also enables UNSW to meet requirements of national and international funding bodies, including the Australian Research Council (ARC) and National Health and Medical Research Council (NHMRC).

UNSW is committed to enabling open access to published Research Outputs produced at UNSW and initiatives to improve access to publicly funded research. UNSW adopts the FAIR principles in its approach to open access, to ensure that research is Findable, Accessible, Interoperable, and Reusable utilising infrastructure, services, and expertise from across UNSW including the Division of Research and Enterprise, and Library. UNSW's approach acknowledges that open access is an essential part of the broader movement towards open research.
