

Work Health and Safety News

February 2020

It's been a crazy start to the new year (and decade) for a lot of us! As we get back into our routines and campus life starts back up again, we bring you our first Safety newsletter of the year with some tips on how to keep yourself and others safe. First, we have an update on the replacement for SafeSys. We've got a new workshop on building resilience and managing anxiety, and reminders on the importance of immediate reporting of notifiable incidents, and the new exposure standards for respirable crystalline silica. Jaggaer is being upgraded, the HSE Consultation Course is now available, and our Benestar onsite staff counselling service is proving popular. We're also focussing on hygiene and etiquette this month, with articles on proper hand washing and cough and sneeze etiquette. Stay safe out there everyone!

---

6. If you do not have access to soap and water, use an alcohol-based hand sanitiser.

Wa

Revised Workplace Exposure Standards for Respirable Crystalline Silica

Work Health and Safety (WHS) ministers have agreed by the requisite majority to reduce the